Leyland proves colour credentials in Blackpool

Leyland's dedication to colour is as vibrant as ever after it helped provide an eye-catching mural for an overlooked corner of Blackpool.

Contractor: Fine Lines Decorating Services Ltd

Task: As part of the Blackpool Civic Pride Initiative, local student Sofia Ali was tasked with creating a colourful new mural to brighten up a wall on a main thoroughfare that greets visitors and residents on their way into the town.

Product: Leyland's passion for colour was tested to the extreme on the project, but with the help of imaginative colours like Kiwi, Egyptian Sun, Samba Soul, Pure Passion and Signal Red that the local Decorating Centre supplied in vinyl matt, it was able to inject a splash of colour into Sofia's design and help create a landmark that Blackpool residents can be proud of. This project is further evidence that when it comes to colour, Leyland has it covered. Its in-store tinting services offer tradespeople the choice of thousands of colours in products from its extensive range, while the ColorXPress colour matching service utilises advanced technology to provide a perfect match to paint, fabric, wallpaper and even tiles.

Background: Local businessman Andrew O'Neill and his decorating business Fine Lines Decorating Services Limited supported and co-ordinated the painting project, further enhancing the strong relationship between themselves and Leyland.

“The colour options provided by Leyland were faultless and really helped bring the best out of what was already an inspiring design. We are thrilled with the outcome yet again from Leyland.”
